This filing is responsive to the Request for Additional Information (RAI) dated July 12, 2012. In response to item 1 of this RAI, the Committee states that it has exercised its "Best Efforts" and conducted two independent email communications to all contributors in 2011 and 2012 whose information was not provided at the point of initial online contribution. The Committee has significantly reduced the ability of contributors to make contributions online without providing the identifying information. The information provided by contributors has now been imported to the Committee's FEC File ".dcf" file. However, this Committee continues to merge duplicate entries, many of which have the identifying information in only one of two (or more) entries. This process is taking at least 7 and as much as 10 minutes per duplicate entry being merged, substantially slowing the committee's ability to file an amended Schedule A with all information. The Committee continues to expend ongoing effort to do so, but as an organization with many thousands of grassroots contributors, and only one ".dcf" file, this is a slow, tedious, manual process. In response to item 2 of this RAI, this is a payment to the depository bank-issued credit card for the outstanding balance, all individual items of which were previously reported separately and noted as being from "CC" opr "Credit card" on account identifier line. Pursuant to the guidance of the FEC RAD, we will be amending prior reports to change how such information was reported. However, the committee must first complete the very slow merger of duplicate entries pursuant to item 1.
